All organizational units and employees of the Department of Corrections must comply with this operating procedure; however this procedure does not govern property belonging to the Virginia Public Building Authority (VPBA) or the Virginia Information Technologies Agency (VITA). See Operating Procedure 230.1, Accounting for Fixed Assets, for information on Fixed Assets of the VPBA.

2. Property purchased with grant funds can only be utilized for the purposes, and to the extent specified in the terms of the particular program funded by the grant. Contact the DOC Surplus Property Officer for assistance with excess and surplus property bought with grant funds.

3. Property purchased from the Federal Surplus Program must be utilized for the period and purpose required by the Federal Surplus Program. Contact the DOC Surplus Property Officer for assistance with excess and surplus property originally obtained from the Federal Surplus Program.

d. Maintains a historic record of MEPLs on the Procurement and Risk Management Unit shared drive.
e. Assists all organizational units to obtain, transfer, and dispose of excess and surplus property.

5. Delegation, Approval, and Signature Authority

6. Each DOC Organizational Unit Head should designate a Surplus Property Coordinator (SPC) to be responsible for matters relating to surplus property at their assigned operating unit.

B. Guidance

1. Attachment 1, Surplus Property Contact Information, lists individuals to contact for assistance with excess/surplus property issues.

2. Attachment 2, Surplus Property Overview, provides a flow chart of the process for disposal of excess property.

C. Review of DOC Property

1. A review of fixed assets is required every two years (see Operating Procedure 230.1, Accounting for Fixed Assets) and all other property on hand in each operational unit should also be evaluated for usefulness at least every two years. This is best accomplished when book inventories are physically reconciled with property on hand or when purchasing replacement property.

2. The Organizational Unit Head or designee declares property "excess" when it is no longer needed or usable by the organizational unit.
   a. The organizational unit sends an electronic list of available excess property to the SPO in a timely manner.
   b. Lists should briefly describe salient property features, quantity, condition, and a point of contact.
   c. This information is compiled in the DOC Monthly Excess Property Listing (MEPL) for e-mail distribution to all organizational units, on or about the 5th of the month, and posted on iDOC (under Administration, Procurement) for approximately 30 days.

3. When an Organizational Unit Head is officially notified of closure or reduction in size of their organizational unit, all property affected by the closure or reduction and not identified by DOC Management to be transferred to another DOC location, is promptly declared excess and reported to the SPO.

D. Transfer, Transport, and Storage of Excess Property

1. Excess property reported to the SPO is available to all units within the DOC. Organizational units within the DOC are authorized to transfer directly and enter into shared property usage agreements with each other. Organizational units may immediately transfer surplus items for which another organizational unit identifies an immediate need by preparing the State Surplus Property Transfer Document 260_F8.

2. Organizational Unit Heads desiring excess property should contact the owning organizational unit.

3. The owning organizational unit is responsible for any movement and safe storage of excess property until ownership is transferred.

4. Each organizational unit should designate an area to be used for storage of excess property. This area should not be allowed to become permanent storage of excess or scrap items.

5. Transfers of excess IT equipment must be handled through the DOC Agency Information Technology Resource (AITR) or designee.

6. Firearms may be transferred within the DOC only after receiving permission from the Chief of Field Operations.

7. The DOC Fleet Manager and the DOC Fleet Management Governance Council control transfer of motor vehicles.

8. The organizational unit that owns the excess property prepares the State Surplus Property Transfer Document 260_F8 and forward it to the receiving Organizational Unit Head or designee for signature and date, and retain a copy.
   a. If the item(s) are listed in the Fixed Asset Accounting Control System (FAACS), the owning organizational unit must also notify the FAACS Coordinator to update the items(s) in FAACS.
   b. The FAACS coordinator prints and provides the receiving organizational unit a copy of the FAACS record.
   c. The receiving organizational unit notifies their FAACS Coordinator to enter the item(s) in FAACS.

9. The receiving organizational unit is responsible for making the necessary transportation arrangements for pickup and transport of the excess property to their desired location.

10. Equipment, or scrap items that have been abandoned, or allowed to deteriorate should be reported to the Organizational Unit Head to take appropriate disciplinary action.

E. Disposal of Excess Property

1. Cannibalization - In some cases, capital asset items that are no longer functional are cannibalized to obtain parts, which can be utilized to repair other like assets. The original item is considered surplus and disposed of by filling in the appropriated cannibalized disposal code. This allows an agency to review like assets on the disposal report with the cannibalized disposal code to determine if parts are available. All remaining cost and accumulated depreciation will be removed from appropriate asset accounts.

2. Rubbish - The disposal of some consumable commodities such as rubbish should not be reported on the Scrap Material Destruction List 260_F9. Examples of rubbish or garbage include, but are not limited to, household trash, consumable supplies, worn apparel, used mops, brooms, rags, mattress, linens, towels, etc.
3. Scrap Items
   a. Scrap items have sale value for material content only, such as a recyclable material. If there are any questions about items believed to meet the definition, contact the SPO for clarification.
   b. If the cost of scrap sale will exceed the expected return, the item may be destroyed or disposed of in an authorized landfill.
   c. Property disposed of as scrap is declared completely useless, cannot be repaired, and have no resale value. This property is disposed of in accordance with all applicable EPA, Federal, and State Regulations. (See Scrap Material Destruction List 260_F9.)
   d. Any excess equipment or material possessing intrinsic and/or recycle value requires written justification on the Scrap Material Destruction List 260_F9 by the owning organizational unit prior to destruction or disposal in a certified landfill.
      i. Information on Surplus Scrap Metal Recycling can be located on the DGS Recycling Assistance Program website.
      ii. The DOC Environmental Services Recycling Manager provides guidance on the disposal of “recyclables”. (See Operating Procedure 302.3, Sustainability Plan.)
   e. At the end of each fiscal quarter, each organizational unit is responsible for forwarding a copy of all Scrap Material Destruction Lists for the quarter to the Office of State Surplus Property along with a signed copy of Quarterly Disposal Request Approved (see Attachment 3).
   f. Organizational units may contact the SPO or the DGS State Surplus Property office for help in determining property value and/or scrap justification.

4. Other Excess Property Disposal Procedures - Also, see Instructions for the Disposal of Specific Commodities section of this operating procedure.
   a. Serviceable excess property at organizational units is made available for reuse elsewhere within the DOC before being declared to DGS as surplus.
      i. The Organizational Unit Head or SPC reports all property declared excess to the SPO. Excess property reporting is communicated to the SPO via email using the MEPL found on iDOC at Monthly Excess Property Listing - Excess Property Spreadsheet.
      ii. Excess property is posted as available on the MEPL.
         (a) Items determined to be in poor condition should not be listed on the MEPL.
         (b) Items typically do not include warranty, guarantee, or transportation.
         (c) These items remain available for re-distribution, on a first come, first served basis, to all DOC organizational units for a period of 30 days.
         (d) Organizational units interested in property for reuse should contact the owning organizational unit.
         (e) Any excess property, other than consumables, that is transferred between organizational units is documented by completion of a State Surplus Property Transfer Document 260_F8 with authorized signatures at the time of transfer and be retained for audit purposes.
         (f) In addition, any item listed in FAACS must be updated in FAACS by the owning organizational unit’s FAACs coordinator. The owning organizational unit will print and provide the receiving organizational unit a copy of the updated FAACS record and the receiving organizational unit’s FAACs coordinator will enter the item into FAACS.
   b. The source of funds for the original purchase of each item is identified prior to the time items are declared surplus to ensure the proper disposition. If the source of the funds cannot be determined, the items is treated as having been purchased with general funds.
   c. If no DOC organizational unit expresses an interest in MEPL items after 30 days, the owning organizational unit is encouraged to advertise the excess material as surplus property through the DGS Surplus Property site’s reutilization page, when that option is available.
      i. Posting property for 15 days on the DGS reutilization page, if it is available, is sufficient.
      ii. Once it is determined that excess items will be declared surplus and remain in DOC possession, the SPC completes a Surplus Property Report 260_F6, obtain the appropriate DOC authority signature, and submit the approved Report to DGS/OSPM. Once declared surplus, the property is not to be moved from the site until notified by the Office of Surplus Property regarding its disposal.

iii. For any excess items to be declared surplus and taken to a DGS Surplus Warehouse/Distribution Center, the SPC completes a Surplus Property Manifest 260_F7, obtain the appropriate DOC authority signature, and transport the Manifest with the items to the warehouse.

iv. If property is not listed on the DGS reutilization page, it should be taken to a DGS Surplus Warehouse/Distribution Center.
   (a) DGS will take ownership and determine if the material will be transferred to another agency, disposed of through public sales or auction, or other disposal methods.
   (b) Organizational units are responsible for completing the Surplus Property Manifest 260_F7, obtaining the appropriate DOC authority signature, and delivering surplus material to DGS Surplus Warehouse/Distribution Centers.
   (c) Organizational units should contact the DGS Richmond Surplus Warehouse/Distribution Center at (804) 786-3311 or the DGS Wytheville Surplus Warehouse/Distribution Center at (276) 228-6803 to request material acceptance (see Attachment 1).
   (d) Upon delivery of material to a Distribution Center, the organizational unit requests a copy of the signed Surplus Property Manifest 260_F7 to retain for audit purposes.

d. The Surplus Property Report 260_F6 or the Surplus Property Manifest 260_F7 is prepared and forwarded to DGS by the organizational unit.
   i. See the Motor Vehicles section of this operating procedure for the only exception.
   ii. See the DOC Headquarters section of this operating procedure for further instructions for excess and surplus property at DOC Headquarters.
   iii. To avoid duplication, do not fill out the Surplus Property Report for property to be transferred to DGS Surplus Warehouse/Distribution Centers; complete the Surplus Property Manifest only.
   iv. A copy of all Surplus Property Reports and Surplus Property Manifests is retained at the property owning organizational unit for audit purposes.

f. The organizational unit SPC is the liaison with the DOC SPO and DGS State Surplus Property.

2. For any equipment, material, or supply, other than consumables, the owning Headquarters organizational unit SPC will complete the State Surplus Property Transfer Document 260_F8 and forward it to the Organizational Unit Head or designee for signature and date.
   a. Unless the DOC GSU Manager or designee indicates a direct transfer to another DOC organizational unit rather than to the General Services Unit (GSU) Warehouse, the State Surplus Property Transfer Document 260_F8 should list the DOC GSU as the receiving organizational unit.
   b. The DOC GSU representative will sign the transfer document acknowledging receipt of the property and both the transferring and receiving units will keep a copy for audit purposes.

4. If property is transferred to the DOC GSU Warehouse, the DOC GSU becomes the owning organizational unit and any future transfer of the excess property to another DOC operational unit is documented by the DOC GSU by completing the State Surplus Property Transfer Document 260_F8, obtaining the General Services Organizational Unit Head or designee’s signature and date and presenting the paperwork to the receiving Organizational Unit Head or designee for signature and date acknowledging delivery of the property. A completed copy of the Surplus Property Transfer Document is retained by the DOC GSU and the receiving organizational unit for audit purposes.

If property is determined to be scrap material and will not be transported to the DOC GSU Warehouse but disposed of by landfilling or destroying, the DOC GSU may request that the owning unit complete the Scrap Material Destruction List 260_F9 in accordance with the Disposal of Excess Property section of this operating procedure.
   a. A copy of the signed List is kept on file by the owning organizational unit.
   b. If the DOC GSU completes the List, a copy will be provided the owning organizational unit.

6. Once property is transferred to the DOC GSU Warehouse, the DOC GSU is responsible for making the determination as to whether property should be held as excess, scrapped, sold for recycle content, or taken to the DGS Richmond Surplus Warehouse/Distribution Center. The DOC GSU will be responsible for completion of the appropriate documentation depending on the method of disposal, obtaining appropriate signatures, and retaining a copy for audit purposes.
