Audit Findings

Audit Narrative

The auditor’s description of the audit methodology should include a detailed description of the following processes during the pre-onsite audit, onsite audit, and post-audit phases: documents and files reviewed, discussions and types of interviews conducted, number of days spent on-site, observations made during the site-review, and a detailed description of any follow-up work conducted during the post-audit phase. The narrative should describe the techniques the auditor used to sample documentation and select interviewees, and the auditor’s process for the site review.

The auditor was provided with policies and procedures specific to St. Brides Correctional Center to review prior to arrival for the onsite audit portion. This documentation which included handbooks, copies of posters, PowerPoint presentations, forms used, training lesson plans and a staffing analysis allowed the auditor to review how the prison addressed the PREA standards and how these standards were being accomplished. The onsite audit consisted of 3 days. A thorough prison tour included all areas of the prison to include all living units and RHU. This prison is set up in a barracks style with direct supervision. The auditor was able to witness how camera placement was used to monitor and record areas within the prison. A living unit roster was provided and using a random number system the auditor chose random inmates ensuring that all living units were represented. Each day a staff roster was provided and the auditor chose random staff to interview using a similar random number system. The auditor was able to interview specific inmates specified in the PREA audit instrument and these inmates were not included in the random inmates selected. Following the 3 day site visit the auditor reviewed all information gathered from each interview with staff and with inmates. This information along with notes taken while on site, documentation provided before the site visit and documentation provided during the visit were used to reach the audit findings.

Facility Characteristics

The auditor’s description of the audited facility should include details about the facility type, demographics and size of the inmate, resident or detainee population, numbers and type of staff positions, configuration and layout of the facility, numbers of housing units, description of housing units including any special housing units, a description of programs and services, including food service and recreation. The auditor should describe how these details are relevant to PREA implementation and compliance.

St. Brides Correctional Center is a state prison in the Virginia Department of Corrections system. This facility houses males and transgender females. The security of the facility is considered by VA DOC to be a level 2. This security level requires that inmates cannot have escape history within the past 5 years. A single life sentence must have reached their Parole Eligibility Date and there cannot have been any disruptive behavior for the past 24 months. This correctional center is an Intensive re-entry site. During the onsite visit the inmate count was 1177. There are a total of six units with two sides each. Each side is barracks style housing 98 inmates. An officer is stationed in an enclosed secure observation control room approximately 6 feet from the floor between the two sides which provides a visual of both living areas. Another officer walks the floor of the two sides to have interaction with the inmates and make closer observations. This prison design allows for direct supervision which is a useful tool to prevent and monitor potential sexual assault. The RHU has a maximum capacity of 24 and there are 6 medical infirmary beds when needed. Unit managers and correctional counselors have offices within the wings of the living units. This allows them immediate access to the units and to provide access to the inmate population within their unit. This is an intensive reentry site with a strong emphasis on programs to include education and vocational. Using cameras and staff these areas where programs to include education and vocational classes are held are monitored and controlled.

Summary of Audit Findings

The summary should include the number of standards exceeded, number of standards met, and number of standards not met, along with a list of each of the standards in each category. If relevant, provide a summarized description of the corrective action plan, including deficiencies observed, recommendations made, actions taken by the agency, relevant timelines, and methods used by the auditor to reassess compliance.

☒ Meets Standard (Substantial compliance; complies in all material ways with the standard for the relevant review period)
☐ Does Not Meet Standard (Requires Corrective Action)

Instructions for Overall Compliance Determination Narrative

The narrative below must include a comprehensive discussion of all the evidence relied upon in making the compliance or non-compliance determination, the auditor’s analysis and reasoning, and the auditor’s conclusions. This discussion must also include corrective action recommendations where the facility does not meet the standard. These recommendations must be included in the Final Report, accompanied by information on specific corrective actions taken by the facility.
Interviews with the PREA Coordinator, the PREA Compliance manager for the institution and the PREA analyst for the region where the institution resides provided information to support the agency and prison are meeting this standard. A review of the agency policy supports that all areas mandated by the Prison Rape Elimination Act are covered and addressed in the policy. Through communication with emails, phone calls and site visits the PREA Coordinator and PREA analyst keep contact with the prison staff assigned as the PREA Compliance Manager. The PCM is able to provide the prison the tools they need to keep inmates safe from sexual harassment and assault.

Instructions for Overall Compliance Determination Narrative

The narrative below must include a comprehensive discussion of all the evidence relied upon in making the compliance or non-compliance determination, the auditor’s analysis and reasoning, and the auditor’s conclusions. This discussion must also include corrective action recommendations where the facility does not meet the standard. These recommendations must be included in the Final Report, accompanied by information on specific corrective actions taken by the facility.

The institution has a mandatory minimum number of security staff that should be present during the day shift and the night shift. Through a memo from the Warden to all shift commanders a specific number of correctional officers has been given and directed that they must have on site during the shift. No deviations from this directive are allowed. The shift commander is responsible for enlisting volunteer off duty CO’s to work overtime and if no one volunteers then mandated call-ins are instituted where the employee must come to work even though they have scheduled time off. The auditor saw in the post orders that informs the officer they are not to inform anyone that the supervisor is walking around. Supervisors interviewed informed the auditor that the units are visited randomly and if different orders so that staff do not expect them to walk the yard in a specific order of units.

This discussion must also include corrective action recommendations where the facility does not meet the standard. These recommendations must be included in the Final Report, accompanied by information on specific corrective actions taken by the facility.

St. Brides Correctional Center is a facility for only male inmates so therefore no female inmates are ever present in the prison. The auditor witnessed during the walk around tour that females were announced when they entered the unit and areas. This was done even if a female employee was already present in the unit. The auditor also reviewed a log where senior staff sign in to show they are making rounds for the purpose of the PREA standards. Random interviews with staff and with inmates confirmed that this announcement practice is done consistently. Interviews with transgender females housed at St. Brides confirmed that they are treated in a professional manner.

A review of the employment application and an interview with the Human Resources Manager at the prison confirmed that all necessary and mandated steps were taken to ensure that the correct people are hired to manage and supervise inmates. It was also confirmed that a background check is done on all volunteers and any contract employee. The HR manager has authorization to perform background checks using NCIC (National Crime Information Center) database. This is a useful tool because it is nationwide. The auditor also reviewed the policy that informs staff to report any arrests after being hired. This would be for any arrest. The staff are informed that failure to report this information may result in termination. During random interviews with staff they were aware of their duty to report and the consequences they faced if they lied on the application or failed to report.

The information that is shared and delivered to the volunteers was reviewed by the auditor. All aspects of the standards are covered when presented to the volunteers and there is verification that they have received the information. Through a random selection of volunteers the auditor asked them if they understood the zero tolerance policy and if they understood their role. All were able to inform the auditor what they would do if an inmate presented himself to them as having been sexually assaulted or harassed. The volunteers interviewed felt they had a good relationship with the staff on all shifts and felt they could share information they received with the staff and it would be investigated. The lesson plan to educate the inmates was reviewed. Also the handouts given to the inmates were reviewed. During the prison tour the auditor witnessed numerous locations where information is shared with inmates on how to report. Interviews with the inmates confirmed that they are aware how they or their family and friends can report sexual assault or harassment. Inmates interviewed feel very safe from sexual assault in this environment. They informed the auditor that they know there are cameras and that staff are watching them. The inmates also believed that in the open barracks style of housing there is less likelihood of being assaulted. In interview with a hard of hearing, not totally deaf, inmate it was clear that the inmate could be communicated with and understood that his safety was important to the prison staff. The PREA Coordinator confirmed that the agency has methods in place to accommodate inmates with a disability. The inmates interviewed also have access and know the mental health workers by name. These workers are very accessible to the inmate population which is helpful in prevention and monitoring. Within 21 days of the inmate’s arrival to the unit they meet with their classification worker and another PREA risk assessment is performed. The classification workers have an office in the unit and have an open door policy that is shared with the inmates. This allows inmates to come to them. The auditor has witnessed the risk assessment process and how it is saved electronically to be reviewed by appropriate staff. This is helpful as the inmate is transferred to another prison within the state system.

Instructions for Overall Compliance Determination Narrative

The narrative below must include a comprehensive discussion of all the evidence relied upon in making the compliance or non-compliance determination, the auditor’s analysis and reasoning, and the auditor’s conclusions. This discussion must also include corrective action recommendations where the facility does not meet the standard. These recommendations must be included in the Final Report, accompanied by information on specific corrective actions taken by the facility.

The PREA Risk Assessment tool was reviewed. All of the necessary questions are covered. The staff who perform the risk assessment were interviewed. An adequate amount of time is spent with the inmate to gather the information and observe the inmate. Also the location of the classification employee for the unit’s office makes it advantageous that they have access to the inmates and can observe their day to day activities. The inmate is formally reassessed after 21 days of being in the prison and at this time if not before the inmate is asked how they are adapting to the living unit and the prison. The auditor was shown the computer program that alerts the correctional counselor to make sure that a reassessment is done within the 21 days.

The policy that addresses transgender was reviewed. It is in the agency policy that the placement of the transgender will be done on a case by case basis. There is no designated facility or unit for transgender females at St. Brides Correctional Center. In interviews with transgender females housed at St. Brides the inmates commented on their access to the mental health staff when they had concerns or needs. The inmates also said that classification counselors and unit managers were accessible to them. These inmates are reviewed more than every 6 months informally but formally every 6 months. Once the transgender is placed in a living unit the classification counselor, unit manager and mental health work as a team to make sure this inmate is safe from sexual assault and sexual harassment.

St. Brides use of restrictive housing is limited and short term. The commitment by the warden to correct the behavior of the inmate while in corrective housing was evident when interviewing the warden and staff. The auditor also interviewed an inmate, not involved in a sexual assault, housed in the restrictive housing unit (RHU) to learn what they had access to when placed there. The use of restrictive housing to only separate an inmate from the general population is not done at St. Brides. With the step down approach and using levels within restrictive housing it is apparent that prison is committed to not using restrictive housing for punitive measures or for separation.

There is a number for inmates to call and it only requires 3 keypad punches. This number is publicized throughout the prison. There is a mailing address that is also published throughout the prison for the inmates to write to for third party reporting. Interviews with the inmates revealed that they knew the different ways to report sexual harassment or sexual assault. These reporting methods are printed in the inmate handbook and in handouts that inmates receive. Interviews with the staff confirmed that they know how to report if they chose not to tell anyone at the prison. Many conveyed to the auditor that they felt close as a correctional team and would share any information. There is a sign up inside the prison that says, “See something, say something” and this is followed by the staff. Staff believe that all allegations of sexual assault and sexual harassment will be investigated and taken seriously.

(N/A if agency is exempt from this standard.) ☒ Yes ☐ No ☐ NA

- At any level of the administrative process, including the final level, if the inmate does not receive a response within the time allotted for reply, including any properly noticed extension, may an inmate consider the absence of a response to be a denial at that level? This standard is in the Agency PREA policy and is in place but during interviews with the PREA Compliance Manager and with other staff it was learned that if a grievance is filed regarding any sexual assault or harassment claim it is immediately given to the PREA Compliance Manager and the allegation is investigated. The inmate is then given the outcome of the investigation once it is closed. In interviews with staff they are aware of the seriousness of allegations. There is an active grievance system but as it relates to sexual assault and harassment it is merely the avenue to share and report the information and allegation.

The agency to include St. Brides Correctional Center has entered into an agreement with the Virginia Sexual and Domestic Violence Action Alliance. Through the statewide number that has operators 24 hours a day on line an inmate within a Virginia state prison can received confidential support services. The auditor called the three digit number to be connected with a victim advocate. The auditor questioned the person on the phone to learn what they provided and what they shared with the inmate. The inmate is told that this is not a reporting line. They are told that this is a line for confidential support. The auditor interviewed the statewide hotline manager for this organization and sent information that is sent to the inmates to assist them. Inmates call the same 3 numbers for reporting but to gain access to the support services they must choose option #2. At the time of this audit the inmate phone provider is up for review but it is recommended that a new 3 digit number be established for confidential support services.

All staff at St. Brides Correctional Center, security and non-security staff, are trained on what to do if they are the first responders. There are no designated first responders on a shift. Each person that is available responds when the call goes out over the radio. This is shared in the training with all the staff and confirmed when an interview of the institutional trainer was done. The process of separating the inmates and protecting the evidence is gone over many times in shift briefings and in training. During random interviews with staff it was made clear that they know their responsibility.

An institutional plan has been developed and Medical, Mental Health, Investigations and security staff that are working at the time of the assault respond in accordance with their roles. The PREA Investigator and the PREA Compliance Manager are responsible for monitoring possible retaliation of the inmate. The investigator would know if any changes have been brought up against the inmate following his participation in the investigation. If staff felt like they were being retaliated against by their supervisor they would report to the human resources manager. No instance like this has occurred at St. Brides Correctional Center but interviews with all three individuals confirmed to the auditor that they know what to do and how it should be handled.

In the open barracks design of the unit the staff can monitor the activity within the unit.

Inmates at St. Brides Correctional Center would be transported to Chesapeake Regional Medical Center to have a sexual assault exam performed. The Chesapeake Regional medical center is closer to the prison and requires less travel for the officers and the inmate. The Warden during the interview informed the auditor that she and her senior staff had met with the hospital and those who would perform the Sexual Assault exam should they need to bring an inmate for a sexual assault exam. The inmate would be afforded the same sexual assault exam that anyone would receive if they walked in and informed the hospital that they had been sexually assaulted.

The mental health staff at St. Brides are very accessible to the inmate population. The inmates interviewed were aware that they could request to speak to one of the mental health staff. Medical also has a good relationship with mental health and if they felt an inmate needs to be referred to them they would inform mental health. During the tour of the facility while walking with mental health the inmates were not surprised to see them on the unit. This showed the auditor that the mental health staff are very engaged with this inmate population.
